Conrad is 64, retiring soon, and considering enrollment in his employer-sponsored MA retiree group health plan that includes drug coverage with nominal copays. He heard about a neighbor's MA-PD plan that you represent and because he takes numerous prescription drugs, he is considering signing up for it. What should you tell him?

- ☐ a. Generally, employers prefer retirees to enroll in a stand-alone PDP, so he should consider that instead of the MA-PD.
- ☐ b. Generally, employers prefer retirees to have both the retiree group plan and the MA-PD plan to fill in the gaps, but they would be better off with just the MA-PD plan.
- ☐ c. When possible, it is always the best option to have both the employer's plan and the MA-PD, so he would have no out-of-pocket expenses.
- ☒ d. He should compare the benefits in his employer-sponsored retiree group health plan with the benefits in his neighbor's MA-PD plan to determine which one will provide sufficient coverage for his prescription needs.

Mr. Hardin is interested in the Medicare Advantage (MA) PPO plan that you represent. It is one of three plans operated by the same organization in Mr. Hardin's area. The MA PPO plan does not include drug coverage, but the other two plans do. Mr. Hardin likes the PPO plan that does not include drug coverage and intends to obtain his drug coverage through a stand-alone Medicare prescription drug plan. What should you tell him about this situation?

- ☐ a. He could enroll in the MA-only plan and purchase a Medigap plan with drug coverage.
- ☒ b. He could enroll either in one of the MA plans that include prescription drug coverage or Original Medicare with a Medigap plan and stand-alone Part D prescription drug coverage, but he cannot enroll in the MA-only PPO plan and a stand-alone prescription drug plan.
- ☐ c. He cannot enroll in a stand-alone prescription drug plan because you do not represent such a plan.
- ☐ d. He could enroll in the MA-only PPO plan and a stand-alone Medicare prescription drug plan.

Gary Summers is enrolled in Ajax Medicare Advantage plan. Gary has recently faced a series of health issues leading to substantial out-of-pocket expenses. Gary understands that in Original Medicare (Parts A and B) there is no annual out-of-pocket maximum. He asks you if the same is true of his Medicare Advantage plan? How do you respond?

- ☒ a. All Medicare Advantage (MA) plans must have a "maximum out-of-pocket" limit (known as "MOOP") for Part A and Part B benefits. Once the MA plan member pays a specified amount of cost-sharing that health plan pays 100 percent of the medical services covered.
- ☐ b. Like Original Medicare, Medicare Advantage plans have no out-of-pocket annual limits. To help with uncovered medical expenses, Gary should consider hospital indemnity insurance.
- ☐ c. Like Original Medicare, Medicare Advantage plans have no out-of-pocket annual limits. To help with uncovered medical expenses, Gary should consider his family's medical history and investigate a specified disease insurance policy.
- ☐ d. All Medicare Advantage (MA) plans must have a "maximum out-of-pocket" limit (known as "MOOP") for Part A and Part B benefits. Once the MA plan member pays a specified amount of cost-sharing that health plan pays 80 percent of the medical services covered.

Mrs. McCarty is in good health, uses a single prescription, and lives independently in her own home. She is attracted by the idea of maintaining control over a Medical Savings Account (MSA) but is not sure if the plan associated with the account will fit her needs. What specific piece of information about a Medicare MSA plan would it be important for her to know, before enrolling in such a plan?

- ☐ a. MSA enrollees may only receive covered health care services from a limited panel of network providers because otherwise, some providers may charge more than Original Medicare rates.
- ☐ b. All beneficiaries enrolled in an MSA set aside the MSA funds on a pre-tax basis in addition to paying their Part B premium.
- ☐ c. For enrollees in an MSA, after the annual deductible is met, the MSA plan generally pays 75% of the services covered.
- ☒ d. All MSAs cover Part A and Part B benefits, but not Part D prescription drug benefits, which could be obtained by enrolling in a separate prescription drug plan.

Mr. Solomon has drug coverage through his former employer's retiree plan. He is concerned about the Part D premium penalty if he does not enroll in a Medicare prescription drug plan but does not want to purchase extra coverage that he will not need. What should you tell him?

- ☐ a. He will need to enroll in a Medicare prescription drug plan upon becoming eligible for the program to avoid a premium penalty. To reduce his expenses, he should look for a plan with a zero premium.
- ☐ b. If he has any sort of employer coverage, regardless of the level of coverage, he will incur no penalty if he does not enroll in a Part D plan when first eligible.
- ☐ c. He should drop the employer coverage and enroll in a Medicare prescription drug plan. Employer plans are almost always more costly for beneficiaries, and most do not cover the same range of drugs available from a Medicare prescription drug plan.
- ☒ d. If the drug coverage he has is not expected to pay, on average, at least as much as Medicare's standard Part D coverage expects to pay, then he will need to enroll in Medicare Part D during his initial eligibility period to avoid the late enrollment penalty.

Question 22

Mr. Livingston was still working when he first qualified for Medicare. At that time, he had employer group coverage that was creditable. During his initial Part D eligibility period, he decided not to enroll because he was satisfied with his drug coverage. It is now a year later, and Mr. Livingston has lost his employer group coverage within the last two weeks. How would you advise him?

- ☐ a. Mr. Livingston should seek to continue employer group coverage through COBRA because it is likely to have superior benefits at a more reasonable price and provides a permanent solution.
- ☐ b. Mr. Livingston can wait up to 180 days after the loss of his creditable employer group coverage before enrolling in a Part D plan without worrying about paying a premium penalty.
- ☐ c. Mr. Livingston should immediately enroll in a Part D plan, but he can expect to pay a premium penalty because he failed to enroll when first eligible.
- ☒ d. Mr. Livingston should enroll in a Part D plan before he has a 63-day break in coverage to avoid a premium penalty.

Mrs. Mary Phan is a Medicare beneficiary enrolled in a MA-PD plan you represent. Her neighbor recently suffered from a painful case of shingles. Mrs. Phan hopes to avoid such an illness through vaccination. She asks you whether the cost of the shingles vaccination will be covered under the plan you represent. What should you say?

- ☐ a. Yes, provided she has already satisfied her annual deductible before obtaining the vaccination.
- ☐ b. No, because the shingles vaccine is considered experimental. Mrs. Phan will be responsible for the full cost of the vaccination out-of-pocket.
- ☒ c. Yes, there is no cost-sharing for the shingles vaccine, even in the deductible phase of her prescription drug plan, because it is an adult vaccine recommended by the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP).
- ☐ d. Yes, 25 percent of the cost of the shingles vaccine will be covered under the provisions of the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA).

Question 24

Mr. Rudd, a fairly prosperous individual, first became eligible for Part D on December 1, 2025 after working many years and contributing to the Medicare program. Although he did not have creditable drug coverage, he did not sign up for Part D when he was first eligible because at that time he did not rely on any prescription drugs. Recently, Mr. Rudd learned that he needed to take several expensive drugs to stay healthy. Therefore, he wishes to obtain drug coverage during the Annual Election Period to be effective on January 1, 2027. Will Mr. Rudd be subject to a late enrollment penalty and if so, how much?

- ☐ a. Mr. Rudd will not be subject to a late enrollment penalty because he contributed to the Medicare program for many years thereby qualifying for premium free Part A.
- ☐ b. Mr. Rudd will be subject to a one-time penalty of 6 percent – the maximum penalty percentage for late enrollment in Part D.
- ☐ c. Mr. Rudd will not be subject to a late enrollment penalty because he did not take any prescription drugs when first eligible for Part D.
- ☒ d. Mr. Rudd will have to pay a penalty of 13 percent of the national average premium, representing a 1 percent penalty for every month he did not have creditable coverage after becoming eligible for Part D. This penalty will remain in effect for as long as he has Medicare prescription drug coverage.

Question 25

Mr. Stark is 68, actively working, and has coverage for medical services and medications through his employer's group health plan. He is entitled to premium free Part A and is thinking of enrolling in Part B and switching to an MA-PD because he is paying a very large part of his group coverage premium, and it does not provide coverage for a number of his medications. Which of the following is NOT a consideration when making the change?

- ☒ a. Mr. Stark's retiree plan is required to take him back if, within 63 days of having voluntarily quit the employer's plan, he decides that he prefers it to his Medicare Part D plan.
- ☐ b. If Mr. Stark drops his coverage through the employer group plan, he may not be able to get it back.
- ☐ c. If Mr. Stark is eligible for the low-income subsidy, it will substantially decrease the cost of drugs and the premium for the Part D portion of his coverage.
- ☐ d. If his drug coverage through the employer plan is not creditable, his premium for Part D will be increased by the late enrollment penalty, unless he is eligible for the low-income subsidy.

Question 26

Mr. Peters understands that there is a standard Medicare Part D prescription drug benefit, but when he looks at information on various plans available in his area, he sees a wide range in what they charge for deductibles, premiums, and cost-sharing. How can you explain this to him?

- ☒ a. Medicare Part D drug plans may have different benefit structures, but on average, they must all be at least as good as the standard model established by the government.
- ☐ b. The government allows Part D plans to adopt any benefit structure as long as the list of covered drugs meets their approval.
- ☐ c. The government bases its payments to Part D plans on the standard benefit model. For Part D plans to receive the full government payment, they must offer the standard model, however, they can take a risk and revise their benefit structure to attract more beneficiaries.
- ☐ d. The Part D standard model's importance is that it is the only type of plan into which low-income beneficiaries can enroll and still receive any extra help for which they may qualify.
